Tip

Use a fragrance spray to fall asleep faster. Lavender, cedarwood and bergamot are typical scents that your body associates with relaxation and sleep.

How to wash your satin pillowcase

Wash your new pillowcases before using, preferably by hand in cold water; a machine wash on a cold delicate cycle is also acceptable.

Satin should always be laundered separately in a satin-only load.

All satin items should be washed in mesh laundry bags

Use a gentle detergent (preferably one formulated for satin).

Turn pillowcases inside out

Make sure that the water is not warmer than 40 degrees, this can cause the fabric to shrink.

Along with harsh detergents, you should avoid using bleach, fabric softener, or any type of optical brightener.

How to dry your satin pillowcase

| Let the pillowcases air dry.

| If the pillowcase is hung right away after washing, ironing is hardly necessary.

| Line dry your sheets outside or hang indoors

DO

www.hermotions.nl

| We don't recommend putting pillowcases in the dryer; if you must do so, use only the "air" setting.

| Satin dries quickly; check every few minutes and add only the time necessary to dry in the dryer.

| Keep the pillowcases out of sunlight, indoors and outdoors

| Don't wring or twist satin too hard

| Don't iron the pillowcases
